

The Leadership and Community Engagement Training

COURSE OVERVIEW

Seafood Industry Victoria, in partnership with the Federal Government and other State peak bodies, has introduced a new online training opportunity that is available to all those in the seafood industry.

The training package has been expertly developed by the Australian Maritime and Fisheries Academy and is designed for students to gain knowledge and practical skills that can be transferred into their business.

Skills:

- Oral Communication
- Written communication
- Interpersonal skills
- Meeting processes
- Technological knowledge
- Decision making
- Identifying opportunities for involvement
- Community engagement

Delivery:

Flexible online learning, meaning you can study whenever and wherever it suits you through the online learning platform.

A face to face training session for one day will also be scheduled, post COVID-19 as a form of finalizing the training undertaken.

This training is open and available to anyone in the seafood industry (fishers, deckies, family, processors, retailers, etc) at NO COST.

For further information or you would like to register your interest please contact Seafood Industry Victoria on (03) 9687 0673 or admin@siv.com.au

If you are interested, please contact the SIV Office by Friday 1 May 2020.